Summary

Digital Marketing warrior with battle-tested experience in building, maintaining, and running successful digital marketing campaigns. My client-centered campaigns are aimed at achieving mission-critical goals like improving brand awareness and presence.

As a collaborative and creative soldier, I'm highly skilled at managing digital marketing content and using various social media and email marketing tools. I also take on special ops, creating photography and video products tailored to the client's needs.

When not in the digital trenches, I enjoy solving all kinds of digital problems and exercising my creativity in the field of audio and visual art, photography, videography, audio editing, audio reactive visuals, portrait photography and bodyscapes.
